

LA PALOMA

Pure sailing romance is found in the old sailing ships and Hanseatic cogs which are faithfully reproduced on the series La Paloma.

Nothing can better describe it, than the text of the likewise titled song by Helmut Käutner:

A wind blows from south
and pulls me out to sea.
My child, do not be sad,
even if the farewell hurts.
My heart goes on board
and the journey must go on,
your pain will pass;
beautiful will be our reunion.
